Hi Ben

Great to hear you, and ever greater we've got a real composer on board. I'm afraid I don't know much about music, but I was listening to some Steve Reich on Youtube a while ago now, and I rather thought that's good. But any ambient type stuff would be great Ben.

Mum says, also that Van Gelis, as well as Jean Michel Jarre stuff is quite 'futuristic' sounding while being quite harmonious, (instead of depressing sounding). Tangerine dream is another group, but they are are still a bit depressing. I'm in the house today (sore throat) so I'm going to try your sound files again. That's wonderful about your doing us a sample piece. yeh, I'd really like to hear it, Ben.

Also, I look forward to seeing you when you come up to the CBD. I'll get mum to run me down.

With out wanting to sound stupid, are you asking for the feature film screenplay or just the short films?

to get the log in option you actually need to click on the small icon of the say video or script then it says something like e.mail me or if you know usernema password please click her to go to the page... you just click on the words click here and type in the given boxes.
